SHARK ATTACK!

Three shows featuring big fish

Baby Tiger Shark

'Heaven' (2008-09) is Damien Hirst's follow up to his first monumental shark sculpture, 'The Physical Impossibility of Death in the Mind of Someone Living' (1991). Like the original, this smaller version is preserved in a tank of formaldehyde, so you can get up close and personal without fear of it taking a bite out of you.

'The Big Blue', Ordovas, W1S 2ER.

Jarman Award weekend

The legacy of one of Britain's most influential filmmakers and artists, David Jarman, lives on in this annual prestigious award in the art world, which is currently touring the UK. For its London stop, the Walker Art Gallery will host a weekend of screenings and events, featuring all the shortlisted artists, including a performance by Rodney Wilburn, music by Giovanni Hidalgo, and a party talk with Jarman's son, Zephaniah, whose film 'Jarman: A Revolution' (2008) is a celebration of his father's life on a housing estate in Hackney. Free tickets for Jarman Award Weekend at Walker Art Gallery, 61-71, Colindale Ave, NW9 5EQ. For more on this year's shortlisted filmmakers, head to www.jarmanaward.com.
