

Historic conversations Gallerist Pilar Ordovas is interested in the conversations works of art can have across time. Following her successful pairings of Francis Bacon with Auguste Rodin and Annibale Carracci with Lucian Freud, her latest ambitious coupling features the paintings of octogenarian Frank Auerbach with paintings and etchings by Rembrandt van Rijn. Auerbach has long acknowledged his interest in Rembrandt's paintings, and this exhibition will allow for an exploration of shared ideas across both portraits and landscapes.
